comes from this date its city editor.
We ask for him the aid and courtesies of our friends.

More Building.

The R. L. Turner Blooded Stock and Livestock Association recently organized under charter with an authorized capital of $100,000 has succeeded in selling $70,000 worth of stock, and the work of building their stables has already commenced. The plan of the building was given a GAZETTE representative yesterday by Capt. Sam Evans, president of the association, and it is safe to say that when completed it will surpass anything of the kind in the state. The building will be two stories high, with an iron front on Main street, seventy-five feet in width, running back 300 feet to Rusk and fronting fifty feet on that street. In the center will be an elevator where vehicles of every description will be raised to the second floor, and the first floor will be reserved for stock, the specifications calling for 114 stalls.
There will be two drives through the entire length of the stable from Main to Rusk street, and an entrance from Fifteenth street through to the lot in the rear of the building. It is the purpose of this association to furnish not only the best teams and outfits in the city, but to make their stable headquarters for the sale of blooded stock. Offered and managed by such men as Capt. Sam Evans, E. M. Daggett and J. E. Martin the enterprise could hardly fail, and THE GAZETTE wishes them the fullest measure of merited success.

NO PROFESSIONAL.

Trial of Sam Lung on the Charge of Gaming.

A big back door, rejecting in the name of Andrew Jackson, was a witness in the city court Tuesday morning in the case against Sam Lung, charged with being a professional gambler.
Sam is one of that olive-eyed race that make their living in the washee business, and deeply resented the imputation cast upon him in the warrant. Andrew was his witness, but in some way the prosecution had summoned him, probably laboring under a misapprehension. Andrew testified that he lived in an adjoining house and that he had never seen the Mongolians gamble for money, and that they did not when he was in his room, for he could hear them talk, and tell by their conversation. After a few more questions Andrew stated that the Chinese generally used their own language in talking, and further said that he could not understand Chinese. He was then asked how he could tell from their conversation that they were not gambling when he said they spoke Chinese, a language he did not understand. Andrew was cornered, but was adroit enough to turn the fun on the city attorney. "They do sometimes play for beer and whisky, just the same as you and me," he innocently suggested. The crowd broke into applause, and the city attorney grew very red in the face. He had been enough of the witness and turned him over to Sam Lung's lawyer.

"Do you know Sam Lung?" was the question put to Jackson's wife. "Not very long," was the reply. "This provided quite a ripple of laughter." The evidence adduced was not considered strong enough, and Sam Lung was discharged.

MORE HOTEL ROOM.

The Greatest and the Crying Need of Fort Worth.

So much has been said calling attention to the lack of hotel facilities in Fort Worth that there is nothing left to be said more than to call attention to the patent fact that the city daily loses money and perhaps inhabitants by reason of this serious shortcoming.
Every man in Fort Worth knows this to be true. No argument is needed when it is so well known that men go away daily to find hotel accommodations who would otherwise remain over here. Why cannot those who have a direct monetary interest in this matter inaugurate a movement which shall supply the need? No man can compute what has been lost to Fort Worth in the past two years from this cause, and daily this loss grows larger. The lack of sufficient hotel accommodations is a serious detriment to the city.
Every citizen realizes it, and yet nothing is being done to supply the deficiency. Other and even less pretentious causes, with far less need than Fort Worth, are erected, fine hotels.
No complaint is made of the hotels we have, but they are not enough. The city needs a hotel that shall cost not less than one hundred thousand dollars. Will no one move to secure it?

THE FAILURES.

Great Interest Manifested in the News From New York.

Our people are deeply interested in the financial news from New York.
Telegrams announcing the failure of Donnell, Lawson & Simpson were read and discussed with increased interest, as this firm was the New York correspondent of the City National bank of Fort Worth. A reporter of THE GAZETTE was instructed to interview Col.
A. M. Britton, the president of the City National, and ascertain if his bank had suffered by reason of the failure. Col. Britton stated that the City National had $12,500 with Donnell, Lawson & Simpson at the time of the collapse. THE GAZETTE is glad to learn the loss is so slight.

GAINESVILLE.

The New Episcopal Church—Laying the Corner-Stone—A Serious Accident—Briefly.

Correspondence of the Gazette.
GAINESVILLE, May 12.—Bishop Garret officiated at the laying of the corner-stone of St. Paul's Episcopal church to-day. Quite a large crowd, including the Sunday-school children bearing banners with appropriate devices, had assembled to witness the ceremonies of laying the corner-stone.
An appropriate hymn was sung, after which the beautiful and impressive ceremonies of the church, written for such occasions, was read by the bishop. A number of articles were deposited in the huge stone, including copies of the city papers and various coins. This done, the bishop delivered an address in his usual eloquent manner after which the concluding prayer was read. St. Paul's Episcopal church when finished will be a handsome structure and an ornament to the city in which it is located.

The commissioners court has been in session to-day and has insured the courthouse for five years in the sum of $20,000.

A base ball club was organized in Gainesville yesterday. After a little practice the boys will endeavor to arrange a match with Fort Worth.

A young man by the name of Crawford met with a serious accident on Sunday night, about six miles from this city. He was riding along the road, when his horse became entangled in a wire fence, cutting him so badly that he had to be carried home in a wagon. The horse was instantly killed.

MARSHALL.

Interest in the Panic—Accident to a Stranger—The Rain.

Special to the Gazette.
MARSHALL, May 14.—Our people are greatly exercised over the reported panic and bank failures taking place in New York to-day.

A. C. Beebe, a stranger in our city, fell from the steps of his boarding house this morning, fracturing his thigh. He has not sobbed up yet sufficiently to give any account of himself.

The rain-fall last night was just the thing.

The Methodist College.

Our citizens will be glad to learn of the efforts in behalf of the Methodist college being made by Rev. A. A.
Johnson of this city. Of this matter the Philadelphia Ledger, in a report of the proceedings of the Methodist Episcopal general conference, says:

A resolution, prepared by Rev. A. A. Johnson, was submitted by M. A. Daugherty of the Austin conference, and appropriate reference was made. It set out that no ques-tional institution existed in Northern Texas, and that ten acres of land, worth $10,000 and situated in Fort Worth, had been offered to the church for a college campus. It was stated that citizens of Fort Worth had contributed $10,000 for building purposes, and that these opportunities be considered.

And the Daily Christian Advocate thus reports the matter more fully:

W. D. Knowles of the Austin conference presented the following, which was referred to the committee on education: Whereas, there is no educational institution of our church in Northern Texas, a beautiful and fertile territory, larger than all New England, and better rapidly settled by our people from the North and East; and Whereas, ten acres of land in the city of Fort Worth, Texas, worth $10,000, have been offered our church for a college campus, which must be accepted in the near future if utilized by our church; and Resolved, that the committee on education be instructed to investigate, and if found feasible, to recommend the establishing of such an institution of learning in that portion of the state of Texas, and commend it to the favorable consideration of the church and the public.

DIED.

May 13, 1914, Little Hettie May, daughter of J. T. and Mollie N. Smith, aged one year, three months and five days.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE HETTIE MAY.
Farewell, bright child, thy work is done, Thy battle fought, thy victory won; Thy days were few and full of joy—We count our loss thy richest gain.

Farewell, sweet little Hettie May, Farewell, our darling Hettie May,
We cannot ask thee here to stay,
And tread the thorns that pierce the way.

'Tis better far to be at rest Where naught can trouble or molest; Where Christ, our hope, our life, our all, Awaits to crown both great and small.

We would not call thee back again,
And have thee here in piercing pain.
Again farewell, till that great day When God shall wipe all tears away.

FOR BOTH NERVE AND MUSCLE.
COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC
FOR BOTH NERVE AND MUSCLE.

It improves the quality of the blood and enriches it, and is therefore a fine invigorant and corrective of all chronic malady which is associated with an impoverished state of the blood. Those who yield to the regulating and nourishing properties of the great food tonic elements.
It compensates for the loss of vitality, induced by Consumption, Catarrh of the Bladder and other chronic diseases.
It will remedy Female Debility and rebuild the Female physique for those cases of chronic nervous debility peculiar to the sex.
Mothers nursing their own children, and delicate women who expect to become mothers and bring up vigorous children should by all means use this tonic. It restores the system from debility and nervous prostration, and restores the appetite and builds up the system. It is a fine food tonic, and the appetite grows healthier and more robust through the use of this Tonic, the unnatural craving dies away until totally extinguished. It is highly beneficial in Leucorrhoea, Menstrual Pain, and All Material Disorders and for the debilitated effects of an over-use of drugs. It has no equal. If of any kind, it improves Digestion and Ap-
